

PRESS RELEASE

GOBLERCO'S CONCIERGE SERVICE WEBSITE MAKES IT EASIER TO RUN OFFICES

April 2019 - While many aspects of business are run by technology these days, other areas like ordering stationery and booking a cleaning service for the office still requires a human touch. Such tasks may be taking employees away from their real work, so why not increase staff efficiency by leaving them to another trusted party?

GobblerCo's latest concierge service provides solutions that will minimise work loads and provide convenience to business organisations. Our concierge specialists help to cater to a wide range of needs that an organisation may require - be it organising an office party or office experience; arranging for cleaning, office repair or logistic services; and more. Besides the provision of services that provides time-saving convenience at competitive prices, organisations are paired with dedicated account managers to cater to their every need.

For further convenience and to accommodate approval processes within a company, an online office management platform (www.gobblerco.com) was created. Company purchasers or office managers may log in to place orders for products such as breakroom supplies, stationery, as well as for services like catering, cleaning, transport and logistics, office repair and maintenance. Even staff welfare is taken care of as human resource specialists can order products and services for staff perks, health and wellness classes and team building activities, while marketing professionals may pursue our Out-Of-Home advertising media and marketing services. (Product orders will be made available in Q4 of 2019)

Janan Kwek, GobblerCo's Founder & CEO, says, "Although we have been known as a discount groceries retailer since our company started in 2011 we have since identified new challenges in the market, and are pivoting our model by going tech to stay ready and relevant to our customers."

Additionally, as a social enterprise under ComfortDelGro Group and being in line with their key strategy pillar of going green, GobblerCo's cleaning division has partnered with Corlison Pte Ltd to use Method products for our office cleaning operations. While ComfortDelGro Group is committed to minimising the impact of their activities on the environment through ensuring continuous improvement in environmental performance, Method has pledged to ensure that their products truly strive for sustainability — from the safety of the materials they are made from, to the ways they are made and shipped, to the partners they work with in their supply chain. Business organisations who appoint GobblerCo for our cleaning services can be assured that the Method products we use contain no harmful ingredients and are predominantly made from naturally derived ingredients - making your offices both a clean and safe space to work.
